

PRESS RELEASE

Coexya officially joins the Talan Group

Lyon, January 7, 2025– Coexya, an independent digital player specializing in consulting, integration, software publishing, and enterprise infrastructure, headquartered in Lyon, announces the completion of its acquisition on December 17, 2024, by the Talan Group, an international consulting and technology expertise group. This milestone finalizes the merger of the two entities, initiated last July, and marks the beginning of a promising new chapter for the new group.

For over 25 years, Coexya has supported its clients in their digital transformation by developing innovative and tailored solutions. With its integration into the Talan Group, Coexya continues its ambitious growth trajectory.

- Complementary Expertise: Talan and Coexya leverage complementary expertise and competencies, shared business approaches, and talented teams.
 - Expanded Opportunities: This union combines the strengths and assets of both entities to build a customer-focused, innovative new offering.
- Shared Ambition: This new entity positions itself as an international leader in digital transformation, using technology, data, and innovation to serve organizations.

A new identity reflecting shared ambition

Since January 2025, Coexya's logo has evolved to reflect the union of the two entities, incorporating the emblematic colors of the Group. It is also accompanied by the tagline "A Talan Company," symbolizing this strategic alliance and the construction of a shared future.

Strategic alliance to build the future

Philippe Le Calvé, President of Coexya, states::

"This agreement marks a new chapter in Coexya's history. We are proud to join the Talan Group, with whom we share values and a common vision of innovation and digital transformation. Through this merger, we will continue to offer ever more effective and tailored solutions to meet our clients' needs, while opening new development opportunities for our employees."
